Outstanding Program Director Award

Nominations Now Accepted

AAFP Residency Directory Listing

Now is the time to update your residency program information in the AAFP Residency Directory.

This directory features descriptive listings of family medicine residencies with multiple search options that allow students to easily locate programs.

To access, review, and update your program's listing, go to the directory management page. You will need your AAFP organizational login and password.

The AFMRD and the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) are now accepting nominations for the 2017 Nikitas J. Zervanos Outstanding Program Director Award.

To be considered for this prestigious honor, nominees must meet the following eligibility criteria:

- Be a current member of the AAFP and the AFMRD
- Be actively directing a family medicine program for at least 10 years
  - Nominees who actively directed a family medicine program for at least 10 years who either transitioned into a new position or will be transitioning into a new position will be considered eligible to receive this award. Transitions must be within 24 months of the date the award is presented.

- Demonstrate leadership and advancement of the specialty
- Have served as a mentor to residents or medical students
- Have made contributions to the community he or she serves
- Have made contributions to the organizations of the family of family medicine
- Not be a current member of the AFMRD Board of Directors or the AAFP Commission on Education
- Not have served as a Board member of the AFMRD within the last three years
- Have significant leadership experience at the national level

The award will be presented only if an outstanding candidate exists. The recipient will be recognized during the 2017 PDW and RPS Residency Education Symposium in Kansas City, Missouri, and will receive free registration to the PDW or RPS portion of the conference.

Nominations are accepted only through the online nomination form. The required supporting documents are a current curriculum vitae and at least two letters of endorsement. The deadline for nominations is Friday, September 30, 2016.

ACGME Accreditation Assistance

The resources available through Accreditation Navigation are helpful to new programs and AOA-only programs seeking ACGME accreditation.

We recently delivered a free webinar on single accreditation. A recording of the webinar (and the PowerPoint slides) are posted on the website.

Also, there are still slots available for the upcoming Accreditation Navigation course, an intensive two-session program covering all aspects of ACGME accreditation.

information.

What's New in the PD Toolbox?

We recently stocked the PD Toolbox with quite a few new resources, including the following:

- Physician wellness-related resources
- Pain management-related resources
- Procedure Competency Assessment Tools (PCATs)
- Select workshop presentations from the 2016 PDW and RPS Residency Education Symposium (If there are other workshop presentations you would like to see in the Toolbox, please let us know.)

Website Tip of the Month

Can't recall where you saw a particular AFMRD item of interest? Was it on the AFMRD email discussion forum (list serve)? Or was it maybe in the PD Toolbox? Or perhaps you saw it on one of the AFMRD website pages?

No problem.

Simply log in to afmrd.org and type in a search term. The site's robust search engine will conduct a global search that will return results from the PD Toolbox, the AFMRD email discussions (which are all conveniently archived on the website), and all other pages on the website. (See example below.)

Remember, you must be logged in. If you are not, the search results will not display members-only content, such as discussions or toolbox content.
